NIH, Using Systems Science Methodologies to Protect and Improve Population Health (R21)

<http://grants.nih.gov/grants/guide/pa-files/PAR-08-224.html>

Goal: To apply one or more specific system science methodologies to public health and health care systems problems and contribute knowledge that will enhance effective decision making around the development of and prioritization of policies, interventions, and programs to improve population health, especially where resources are limited and only a limited number of programs/policies/interventions can be implemented. Applicants are encouraged to submit projects that tackle “policy resistant” health problems (i.e., ones in which the effects of planned interventions, programs or policies tend to be delayed, diluted or defeated by responses of the system to the intervention itself) using a systems science methodology.

Deadline: Standard NIH submission deadlines apply

Grant size: $275,000 up to two years
